NURTURING GROWTH TRADING
Nurture, Develop and Grow Leaders

“When I met Alicia in 2014, I was still on this path, chasing moving targets, thinking if I get more of this, I will get my freedom. I was so focused maintaining control and order, I had lost sight of what I really needed. And I was exhausted.”

Through the coaching, I was able to, for the first time, step back from my life, hold a mirror up, and look at what was going on. Only then was I able to question if this is really how I wanted to spend my life. Firstly, I learned to question my long held assumptions about getting my freedom. I gained new tools to guide me in living my best life, not tomorrow or when this and that happens, but every day for the rest of my life.

It is incredibly empowering to know that I have this ability to choose my life. For the first time, I can pause, reflect and choose what serves me. It is an incredible gift, the freedom I have always wanted.”
